County Seeking AG Opinion On New Hospital Tax

BY PAUL B. HAYES
EDITOR

The Adair County Fiscal Court Tuesday night endorsed Judge/Executive Ann Melton's effort to seek an opinion from Attorney General Jack Conway on the legality of the Adair County Public Hospital District's intent to reinstate a hospital district tax.

The hospital district board is in the process of taking the required steps to impose a 3.7 cents per $100 of assessed value tax in order to pay off an estimated $3 to $4 million debt the district will have after the hospital and its clinics are sold to LifePoint Hospitals. The 3.7 cent rate is the rate that the hospital was levying when it did away with the tax in 1997 after its bond issues were paid off.

The hospital district scheduled a public hearing on the tax levy for July 19, and will have a special-called meeting on July 20 to vote on the matter.

Melton said that she has received numerous calls about the proposed tax, including several wanting to know if the tax would be subject to a recall election.

"I don't know the answers, Jennifer (County Attorney Jennifer Hutchison-Corbin) and Ray (Assistant County Attorney Ray Hutchison) don't know the answers," Melton told the court. "I think we need to ask the attorney general to clarify what are the appropriate procedures in dealing with it."

In the letter sent to Attorney General Conway, Melton is seeking an opinion on four questions:

- 1.What procedure should an existing taxing district with a zero tax rate follow to establish a new tax rate?
- 2.With a previous tax rate of zero, how does the 1979 House Bill 44 apply to the Adair County Public Hospital District's decision to establish a tax rate of 3.7 cents?
- 3.If it is re-established to the previous 1997 rate of 3.7 cents, would such a rate be subject to recall?

School Board Approves Change In One School Bid

BY PAUL B. HAYES
EDITOR

The Adair County Board of Education met in a special-called session Monday morning to deal with two issues involving the construction of the new elementary school.

The first issue involved whether or not the metal roofing that will be provided for the school by the low bidder meets the bid specs.

Both board member Marsha Walker and board member Mike Harris said they had received calls from another bidder who said they were familiar with the metal to be provided by the low bidder, John Mansfield, and it did not meet the bid specifications.

Mike Smith, from Sherman, Carter Barnhart, the architects for the project, said that they had checked the specifications, and the roofing meets all of them set forth in the bid.

"It's our job to ensure that everything meets bid specifications, and the roofing does," he told the

Groundbreaking Held For New Elementary

BY PAUL B. HAYES
EDITOR

When the Adair County Board of Education accepted bids for construction of a new elementary school at their June board meeting, they were told by Branscum Construction representatives, the project's construction managers, that work on the new facility would be on a "fast track." And, it is.

Tuesday morning, a groundbreaking ceremony for the new school was held, and heavy equipment began moving earth immediately afterward.

The new $13 million facility will replace the aging Col. William Casey Elementary, and could be finished in time for the start of the 2013-14 school year.

"This is a red-letter date in Adair County," new Superintendent Alan Reed told those gathered for the groundbreaking. "We had a pre-construction meeting with the construction manager and the architects earlier today, and we all agree that this new school will be the best one ever built on Adair County school property."

Following the ceremonial ground breaking, Superintendent Reed thanked the school board and retired superintendent Darrell Treece for the work they've done.

"It's just my second week on the job, and I feel so fortunate to

Group Raising Funds To Build Home For Family Who Lost Everything In Fire

BY PAUL B. HAYES
EDITOR

The morning of May 10 started out as a happy occasion for Mary McGuffin and her family.

After getting off work from her job as a nurse's aide at Westlake Regional Hospital's Emergency Room, McGuffin returned to her mobile home residence in the Keltner community. However, instead of going through her normal routine of seeing five of her children off to school then laying down to sleep with her five-year-old twin boys, Alex and Andrew, she changed clothes, loaded up the twins and came back to Columbia so they could attend her six-year-old son Robert's kindergarten graduation.

While still in Columbia, McGuffin received a call that quickly

Editorial Commentary

Paul B. Hayes, EDITOR

Every once in a while a friend will send me an e-mail that is so good that I pass it along in my column for others to read. Today’s column was sent to me last week by a friend, and I’m grateful she sent it, because with the fair and everything else going on, I’ve been awful pressed for time this week. So read on, and see if it touches you like it did me.

The Last Cab Ride

I arrived at the address and honked the horn. After waiting a few minutes I honked again.

Since this was going to be my last ride of my shift I thought about just driving away, but instead I put the car in park and walked up to the door and knocked.. ‘Just a minute’, answered a frail, elderly voice. I could hear something being dragged across the floor.

After a long pause, the door opened. A small woman in her 90’s stood before me. She was wearing a print dress and a pillbox hat with a veil pinned on it, like somebody out of a 1940’s movie. By her side was a small nylon suitcase.

The apartment looked as if no one had lived in it for years. All the furniture was covered with sheets. There were no clocks on the walls, no knickknacks or utensils on the counters. In the corner was a cardboard box filled with photos and glassware.

‘Would you carry my bag out to the car?’ she said.

I took the suitcase to the cab, then returned to assist the woman. She took my arm and we walked slowly toward the curb.

She kept thanking me for my kindness. ‘It’s nothing’, I told her. ‘I just try to treat my passengers the way I would want my mother to be treated.’

‘Oh, you’re such a good boy, she said. When we got in the cab, she gave me an address and then asked, ‘Could you drive through downtown?’

‘Oh, I don’t mind,’ she said. ‘I’m in no hurry. I’m on my way to a hospice.’

I looked in the rear-view mirror. Her eyes were glistening. ‘I don’t have any family left,’ she continued in a soft voice..’ The doctor says I don’t have very long.’

I quietly reached over and shut off the meter. ‘What route would you like me to take?’ I asked.

For the next two hours, we drove through the city. She showed me the building where she had once worked as an elevator operator. We drove through the neighborhood where she and her husband had lived when they were newlyweds. She had me pull up in front of a furniture warehouse that had once been a ballroom where she had gone dancing as a girl. Sometimes she’d ask me to slow in front of a particular building or corner and would sit staring into the darkness, saying nothing.

As the first hint of sun was creasing the horizon, she suddenly said, ‘I’m tired. Let’s go now.’

We drove in silence to the address she had given me. It was a low building, like a small convalescent home, with a driveway that passed under a portico. Two orderlies came out to the cab as soon as we pulled up. They were solicitous and intent, watching her every move. They must have been expecting her.

I opened the trunk and took the small suitcase to the door. The woman was already seated in a wheelchair.

‘How much do I owe you?’ She asked, reaching into her purse.

‘Nothing,’ I said.

‘You have to make a living,’ she answered.

‘There are other passengers,’ I responded.

Almost without thinking, I bent and gave her a hug. She held onto me tightly.

‘You gave an old woman a little moment of joy,’ she said. ‘Thank you.’

I squeezed her hand, and then walked into the dim morning light. Behind me, a door shut. It was the sound of the closing of a life.

I didn’t pick up any more passengers that shift. I drove aimlessly lost in thought. For the rest of that day, I could hardly talk. What if that woman had gotten an angry driver, or one who was impatient to end his shift? What if I had refused to take the run, or had honked once, then driven away?

On a quick review, I don’t think that I have done anything more important in my life. We’re conditioned to think that our lives revolve around great moments. But great moments often catch us unaware-beautifully wrapped in what others may consider a small one.

PEOPLE MAY NOT REMEMBER EXACTLY WHAT YOU DID, OR WHAT YOU SAID, BUT THEY WILL ALWAYS REMEMBER HOW YOU MADE THEM FEEL.

Some Adair County Veterans:
Civil War III,
Some Confederates

We should all be mindful of our veterans, past and present, and those who yet serve the United States. The next few columns will contain brief biographical sketches of some Adair Countians who served in various conflicts. The following represent the men who served from various units in the Union Army.

An effort is being made to identify all the veterans of the Civil War who were from Adair County, who lived here, and those who left here before the conflict and served in other units.

Any reader who can add names to this or any list of veterans is urged to contact me at the above address with information.

According to a report made by John W. Butler, Adair County Court Clerk, to the Kentucky Adjutant General in February 1864, a number of Adair Countains were “expatriated,” according to legislative action in 1862, for adhering to the cause of the Rebellion. The following list contains a sampling of Mr. Butler’s expats as well as others from Adair County who served in the CSA. This list is also incomplete, records for the Confederate forces are not nearly as complete as those for the Union forces. Some of those listed left Adair prior to theWar.

Allen, A. Porter, Lieutenant, enrolled as private, Company I, 2 KY Cavalry, Duke’s Cavalry, enlisted 1 September 1862 Columbia, Adair County; captured on Crocus Creek in Cumberland County 1 July 1863, transferred to Camp Chase, Ohio, then to Johnson Island; “died and was buried on the Island Oct 24/63”; died with dysentery.

Bird, William Jackson “Jack,” Company C, 6 KY Mounted Infantry, enlisted 20 September 1861 Cave City, KY as private for 12 months service; paid as Corporal from 1 September 1862; Service Record state he was wounded and left in hospital at Murfreesboro, TN, wounded severely in shoulder 2 January 1863; AG states he was wounded and taken prisoner at Stones River 31 December 1862; promoted to 5th Sergeant 5 May 1863; taken prisoner 1 September 1864 at Jonesboro, GA.

Breeding, James C., private, Company C, 6 KY Mounted Infantry, enlisted 20 September 1861 Cave City, KY for 12 months service; Service Record states he deserted 5 March 1862 on march from KY; a petition on behalf of J.R. Bell, W.A. Breeding and James C. Breeding from citizens of Gradyville, Adair County, dated 28 April 1863 states: “We the undersigned are well acquainted with the prisoners...& know that they have been at home for a period of twelve months and so far as we know, have not during that time proven themselves disloyal citizens and our intimacy leads us to believe that it is their wish to be loyal citizens and they are entirely opposed to entering the Southern Army. (Signed by) J.H. Privett, R. Campbell, Piner Harvey, Anderson McGinnis, Wm. McGinnis, Mark Goliher and Stephen Stone.”

Bryant, James Gaither, private, Company F, 4 KY Mounted Infantry, enrolled 20 August or 14 September 1861 Camp Burnett, TN, age 21, for three years or duration; description from May 1865: resides Adair County, KY, fair complexion, light hair, blue eyes, 5 feet 8 inches, surrendered at Washington, GA 6 May 1865; born 9 March 1840 Adair County, died 1 August 1920, buried Loy Cemetery, near Gadberry, Adair County; grandfather of Virgil Bryant, Mary Dunbar and others; cousin of Nathan Gaither Bryant.

James Gaither Bryant was a soldier of the Confederate Army under the command of Gen. Joseph H. Leslie. On occasion, he was in Columbia and visited the Adair County News office. He told of several incidents, among them the following: “My command was surrendered at Washington, Georgia, but before the surrender every

FROM THE DESK OF Attorney General Jack Conway

I would not be where I am today had my family not benefited from the GI Bill. After returning from service in Germany, my father put himself through law school at night while working as a public school teacher and football coach by day. The GI Bill allowed my father to build a brighter future for our family.

Since 2008 when Congress enacted the Post 9/11 GI Bill, veterans have had access to billions of dollars in additional educational benefits. While providing an invaluable service, the Post 9/11 GI Bill has also made our service men and women a target of some unscrupulous marketers tied to the for-profit college industry, which may be more concerned about getting its hands on GI Bill funds than in educating servicemembers and their families.

The for-profit college industry’s aggressive and deceptive recruitment of veterans continues to be a top concern of mine as I lead a 30-state bipartisan working group examining potential abuses within the industry. I’m pleased to report a recent victory for veterans against these predatory practices.

On June 27, my office filed a settlement in Franklin Circuit Court on behalf of 20 states against QuinStreet, Inc., the owner and operator of the website GIBill.com. As part of this settlement, QuinStreet will turn over GIBill.com to the Department of Veterans Affairs, which will use the website to promote the GI Bill program and educate servicemembers about their benefits.

Additionally, the company will cease using the term GIBill in any of its domain names, provide disclaimers on its websites and it will pay $2.5 million to the states to settle allegations of deceptive marketing and advertising. Kentucky will receive $325,000.

We began looking at QuinStreet’s GIBill.com nearly a year ago. With images of men and women in uniform, GIBill.com looked like it could be owned or operated by the U.S. government. A review of more than 8,000 emails to and from California-based QuinStreet made it obvious that a significant number of individuals thought they were communicating with the government. Some emails even contained Social Security numbers and requests from veterans about Veterans Affairs’ accounts and benefits.

We were also troubled by the colleges listed as “GI Bill Schools.”

one of us received two dollars in silver money that had been shipped in by General John C. Breckenridge. When my regiment was informed that it would be surrendered, one hundred men, myself being one of the number, registered an oath that they would never lay down their arms; would fight until the last man was killed. This determination would have been followed had it not been for General Lewis, who met us and said such course would be suicidal; that General Lee had surrendered, virtually ending the war, and that we must do likewise. His advice was taken and when the time came, we laid down our arms, and started homeward. The two dollars in silver that I received just before the surrender was in four pieces. Two of them are yet in my possession.

Soon after the close of hostilities, I married in this county and I am the father of nine children, every one of whom cut their teeth on the half-dollars I brought home from the Confederacy.”

An Adair County News item (28 June 1916) says: “...Gen. Jo Lewis, under whom Mr. Bryant fought, speaking of him, said in this town upon one occasion, that he was one of the most fearless men he ever saw...”

Bryant, Nathan Gaither, private, Company F, 4 KY Infantry, killed at Chickamauga 30 September 1863; this was a cousin of James Gaither Bryant, as stated by Lt. G.H. Burton in a letter to the Adair County News in 1914, and was commonly called Gaither Bryant—not same as James Gaither Bryant.

Edrington, Delouvois L., private, 2 MO Battery, Captain Farris’ Battery, Missouri Light Artillery, known as Clark’s Artillery, enlisted 18 December 1861 at Osceola, St. Clair County, MO for 12 months service; left in hospital at Springfield, MO and was captured in Greene or Livingston County, MO 12 February 1863, held in prison at St. Louis; took oath of allegiance, made $1,000 bond and “banished” to California, released 13 April 1863; his father, Benjamin Edrington of Livingston County, MO, applied for the release of two sons; description from February 1863 document: age 18, reside in Livingston County, MO, born Adair County, KY; saw action at Carthage, Wilson Creek, Dry Wood, Lexington; born 11 June 1844 Adair County, son of Benjamin Edrington; some records indicate he did spend time in both California and Nevada; came to Adair County after the War and operated a store at Cane Valley, Adair County around 1869, and a store at Roley 1870-1875, was postmaster at Roley mid-1880s; deputy county clerk of Adair County for some years. Soldier also served as private in Company G, 1 MO Infantry, mustered 18 June 1861 for six months service at Lafayette County, MO.

Gaither, Nathan, Jr., “Nathaniel” “Nat”, private, Company H, 6 KY Cavalry, enlisted 10 November 1862 Murfreesboro, TN for 3 years service; captured at Cheshire, Ohio 20 July 1863 and transferred to Camp Douglas, IL, from which he escaped: son of Dr. Nick Gaither and grandson of Dr. Nathan Gaither; he was often called “Little Nat” Gaither. He was living in 1916 and was president of the Bank of Hopkinsville, KY. Member of the “Adair Guards” in 1860, Fife Major.

Grady, John Henry, private, Company K, 3 KY Cavalry, later designated 7 KY Cavalry, enlisted about 10 July 1863 in White’s Bottom, Cumberland County; was at battle of Cynthiana; captured and in prison at Camp Chase, Ohio, exchanged 1 March 1865, paroled 7 May 1865 at Athens, GA; born 5 January 1842 Gradyville, Adair County, died 22 April 1913 at Quincy, IL, buried Columbia City Cemetery, “lying in his casket, dressed in his Confederate uniform...” He was a son of William Grady, for whom Gradyville was named; married Kate Saufley (1848-1909); applied for pension in July 1912; Mason, physician, pensioner. Member of the “Adair Guards” in 1860, private.

Hood, Creed, private, Company H, 2 KY Cavalry, Duke’s Cavalry, enlisted 30 October 1862 Hopkinsville, KY for 3 years; also served in 1 KY Cavalry; captured 28 June 1863 at Columbia, TN, held at Camp Douglas, IL for 19 months, paroled and transported to Point Lookout, Maryland for exchange 13 February 1865, exchanged near Richmond, VA 20 (or 21 or 23) February 1865; born 2 March 1837 Adair County, died 30 April 1921 Adair County, buried Cox Cemetery; married wife Eleanor Frances “Fannie” Clemmons—sometimes found incorrectly as Clements; applied for pension in September 1920; pensioner; widow applied for pension in March 1928. Description at time of release: born Adair County, KY, age “24”, 5 feet 9 inches, dark complexion, gray eyes, light hair, farmer, enlisted at Camp Quarles on 25 June 1861.

All were for-profit schools, giving the impression that those were the only schools that accepted GI Bill benefits.

GIBill.com wasn’t a website designed to assist veterans, it was designed to prey on them and generate leads for for-profit college recruiters. QuinStreet’s actions were unconscionable, deceptive and violated our Consumer Protection laws.

Our veterans fight for these benefits. They defend us for these benefits. And like my father, they can build a better life with these benefits.

I appreciate the assistance we’ve received on this issue from many of my colleagues, including Illinois Attorney General Lisa Madigan and Delaware Attorney General Beau Biden, who is also a veteran.

I am also grateful for the support of Senators Tom Harkin, Dick Durbin, Kay Hagan and Richard Blumenthal, the Department of Veterans Affairs and the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau’s Holly Petraeus, all of whom were by my side as I announced this multistate settlement.

This is an issue of public trust for consumers and veterans. Be assured, we will be monitoring the terms of this settlement. If QuinStreet doesn’t comply, there will be consequences.

As we celebrate the 4th of July holiday, I hope you will join me in giving thanks to our soldiers and veterans who have risked their lives to defend our independence.

Two Injured In Crash At Greensburg St./Bypass Intersection

Another injury accident has occurred at the well-marked intersection of the Veterans Memorial Bypass and Greensburg Street/KY 61 North.

The latest accident occurred on Wednesday morning, July 4, and sent two people to Westlake Regional Hospital.

According to a press release from the Columbia Police Department, the accident occurred when a 1996 Toyota pickup being operated by Lonnie Brockman, 53, of Russell Springs, was traveling south on KY 61 and failed to stop at the bypass intersection. Brockman's vehicle collided with a 2009 Ford traveling north on the bypass that was being operated by Patricia Roy of Columbia. Roy and a passenger in her vehicle, Dennis Roy, were both transported to Westlake Regional Hospital by the Adair County EMS.

The accident was investigated by CPD Det. Tracy McCarol, who was assisted by Officer Charles Greer. The Columbia Fire Department, Adair County Search and Rescue and Constable Joe Collins also responded and assisted at the scene.

MAN INJURED WHEN TRUCK STRIKES TRAILER, HOUSE

A 75-year-old Adair County man was flown to a Louisville hospital following an accident Saturday morning on Pelham Branch Road.

Wallace Bohannon, of Columbia, was airlifted from the scene by AirEvac and flown to the University of Louisville Hospital following the accident, which occurred at 7:30 a.m. Saturday five miles west of Columbia.

According to the news release from Kentucky State Police Post #15 in Columbia, Bohannon was traveling west on Pelham Branch Road in a 2000 GMC pickup when he crossed the centerline and struck a trailer being pulled by a 2010 Ford

SUV being pulled by 68-year-old William Cowan of Columbia. Bohannon's vehicle then traveled through a yard and struck a house.

Cowan was not injured in the accident, which is being investigated by Trooper Andy Olson.

THE TOYOTA pickup being operated by Lonnie Brockman ended up off the road after he collided with another vehicle at the intersection of the bypass and Greensburg Road.

EMERGENCY PERSONNEL work to extract Patricia Roy and Dennis Roy from their vehicle after it was struck by another vehicle which ran the stop sign at the intersection of the Veterans Memorial Bypass and Greensburg Road on July 4. New Hospital Tax

4.Is it within the statutes and laws for the District to legally levy a tax for the first time in 15 years when it is also in the final stages of selling all of its assents? Taxpayers will be left paying a tax for years to come to a taxing district that will most likely have no assets and only exists to retire a debt.

Members of the court said that they didn't have any problems with seeking an attorney general's opinion if it didn't interfere with the pending sale of the hospital, and voted unanimously to endorse Melton's request.

Hospital board chairman James Evans, who was present at the meeting, said that he didn't have any problem with the county seeking an attorney general's opinion.

When asked about the legality of the tax, Evans said that the people that they have talked to in the Department for Local Government in Frankfort say they think the hospital district can reinstate the tax.

"But, we're just as much in the dark as anyone else," he said. "We have people looking into it, but they say we're plowing new ground.

"They (the Department of Local Government) say they think it will not be subject to recall if the rate stays at 3.7 cents," Evans continued. "If it went to 10 cents (the maximum rate the hospital district would be able to levy) it could be subject to recall.

"We either need to come up with money to keep the hospital going or file for bankruptcy."

Later in the meeting, the court members and Judge Melton had further questions for Evans concerning the hospital's status, and also talked with some representatives of the bank consortium which hold the loans on the hospital.

Evans pointed out to the court that the problems the hospital has "isn't the fault of the current board, but we're trying to deal with them."

When asked if a closing date for the sale of the hospital to LifePoint has been set, Evans said that it hasn't, but they need to have the closing no later than Aug. 31, and would like to have it at the end of July.

Judge Melton asked Evans if the board could sell the hospital and not have a way to pay for the shortfall.

"I think we can, but if you know different, tell us," he said. "That's why I have no problem with asking for an attorney general's opinion."

When the bank representatives were asked if they had researched whether or not a tax would be subject to recall, Linda Dunn, from Farmer's National Bank in Danville, said, "Our legal team doesn't think the tax would be subject to recall."

Magistrate Sammy Baker asked Evans if the hospital board has a plan in place if they run out of funds before the sale is completed, and Evans said they are trying to work on one.

"We are in deep trouble, and I hope we can keep the doors open until the sale is completed," he said. "We are making payroll, but are a little bit behind on accounts payable.

"Are we up do date with the banks? I thought we were, but I found out today that we may be a month or two behind on our interest payments."

Evans went on to say that "the figure I've gotten shows there could be a $3-4 million shortfall, but we may get some funds that would reduce that.

"We're still doing things to improve the hospital. The behavioral health unit is now open, and it has several patients."

Evans once again assured the court that the $1.7 million the county loaned the hospital will be paid at the time of the sale.

As far as a tax, Evans said that if they default on the loans, "the court will force us to put on a tax" to recoup the money owed.

Judge Melton asked the bank representatives if they have considered any action against the former CEO (Rusty Tungate) over the misrepresentation in obtaining the loans, and they said they haven't.

"Our primary concern is keeping the hospital open and keeping health care in Adair County," Linda Dunn said.

"We relied on the regular audit to make the loan," Terry Pugh from First and Farmers National in Somerset said. "We haven't been privileged to see the forensic audit.

"The loan is our primary concern right now," he noted.

The final question of the discussion was posed by Magistrate Daryl Flatt, who asked Evans, "Do you feel confident that the hospital will stay open until you get it sold?"

"I wish I could say 100 percent it will, but I can't," Evans replied.

In other action at the meeting, the court:

- Was informed by Judge Melton that the Adair County Ambulance Service Board has said they were not going to contribute $19,000 to the 911 Center for dispatching.

- They said they weren't going to contribute the $19,000 we had budgeted for them to pay," Melton said. "As you all know, we only have $24,000 in uncommitted funds in our entire budget."

- Adair County 911 Director Greg Thomas presented the court with printed readouts showing how many calls the 911 center handled for the ambulance service last year (2,742).

- Since there was no ambulance board representative at the meeting, magistrate Billy Coffey said that he felt they needed to discuss the matter more, and made the motion to put any decisions off for a month and request an ambulance board member attend the next meeting.

- Approved entering into a contract with Emergency Communications Network to provide Code RED (emergency warning phone calls) to county residents.

- 911 Director Thomas said that the county's current contract has expired, and ECN has purchased the company that was providing the services. It has agreed to provide the services for four years at a total cost of $20,830. Thomas said that the City of Columbia has agreed to pay a fourth of the cost, as has the Columbia-Adair Utilities District, so the total cost for the county for the four years will be $10,415.

- Heard a report on the building inspector from Magistrate Daryl Flatt.

- Flatt, along with magistrates Joe Rogers and Sammy Baker met twice with Carley Fudge, and reached an agreement.

- Flatt said they agreed to sign a one-year contract with Fudge that will allow him to charge the current state rates for inspections. The money for the permits must be paid to the judge/executive's office, and the county will retain 10 percent for administrative costs.

- Flatt said that County Attorney Jennifer Hutchison-Corbin will draw up the contract. The court voted unanimously to go along with the committee's recommendation.

- Heard a report on wrecker service.

- Magistrates Perry Reeder and Harold Burton met with the 911 Board, and Reeder said they had no complaints about how calls for wrecker service were being handled.

- Approved the following board appointments as recommended by Judge Melton: Tommy Steele, reappointed to the Columbia-Adair County Parks and Recreation Board for a term expiring June 30, 2015; Tracy Rooks to a two-year term on the Adair County Ambulance Board to replace Sherri Hutchison, who did not want to be re-appointed; and Mike Mitchum, Buddy Sewell and Chris Janes to four-year terms on the Columbia-Adair County Airport Board.

- Heard the litter abatement report from A.L. Sinclair.

- Sinclair said that during the spring road cleanup, they covered 362 miles of roads and picked up 2,132 bags of garbage.

- "The roads now look like they did back when we first started," Sinclair said. "It's disgusting."

- Sinclair also told the court that they have received a $26,000 grant which will be used to buy a new baler and a new trailer for the recycling program.

- He also said that something needs to be done about the problem with people dumping household garbage around the garbage cans at Mt. Carmel Boat Ramp.

- Approved all standard monthly items.

All magistrates were present for the meeting.

KSP Marijuana Eradication Teams Prepare For Busy Summer

The KSP Cannabis Suppression Branch launched their annual outdoor campaign to eradicate cultivated marijuana with a two-day training including aerial spotting and repel techniques, GPS land navigation, ATV training, and booby trap awareness.

Lt. Brent Roper, a twenty-one year veteran of KSP and current commander for the Cannabis Suppression Branch, is charged with overseeing the training and coordinating the summer seasonal campaign to catch high volume growers.

“We take this operation very serious and for that reason, provide our teams with the best training available to keep them safe while eradicating large number of plants,” says Roper.

Roper says the seasonal enforcement campaign is a multi-agency operation including the Drug Enforcement Administration, Appalachia HIDTA, US Forestry Service, National Guard, US Marshal Service and KSP.

In 2011, Kentucky marijuana suppression teams eradicated nearly 400,000 outdoor pot plants from over 5,000 plots resulting in 371 arrests.

“One fully developed pot plant can be processed into one pound of street packaged marijuana,” adds Roper. “A one-pound unit will sell for approximately $2,000.”

KSP teams removed nearly $800 million dollars worth of outdoor pot in 2011.

Last year, the Drug Enforcement Agency (DEA) funded marijuana eradication operations in the US that removed 6.2 million outdoor plants resulting in 8,501 arrests and seizure of 42.1 million dollars of cultivator assets. The program also removed 5,181 weapons from cannabis cultivators.

Roper sees marijuana as an avenue to finance trade for other illicit substances and drug-trafficking enterprises.

“Marijuana is definitely a cash crop in Kentucky and what some people don’t understand is that these funds are assisting in illegal trade operations of other dangerous drugs,” says Roper.

Woman Arrested For Cultivating Marijuana

An Adair County woman was arrested Friday afternoon after local law enforcement agencies discovered marijuana plants growing at her residence.

According to a news release from the Adair County Sheriff’s Department, Jennifer Butler-Damaschke was arrested Friday at her residence at 2027 Highway 55 South after officers found 30 marijuana plants growing on her property.

After a short investigation conducted by Sheriff Harrison Moss and Deputy Sheriff Aaron Rainwater, a search warrant for Damaschke’s residence was obtained and executed. As a result 30 marijuana plants were found growing on the property, and the plants along with other drug paraphernalia were seized.

Damaschke was charged with cultivation of marijuana – five plants or greater, possession of marijuana and possession of drug paraphernalia and lodged in the Adair County Regional Jail.

Officers from the Columbia Police Department and Kentucky State Police assisted in the investigation.

Forty Troopers Graduate From KSP Academy

The Kentucky State Police Academy presented diplomas to 40 new troopers at ceremonies held today in Frankfort. Their addition to the force brings the agency's strength to a total of 948 troopers serving the citizens of the Commonwealth.

The new troopers were part of the agency's third Law Enforcement Accelerated Program (LEAP), a condensed course for current police officers who have three years of Kentucky Police Officer Professional Standards (POPS) law enforcement experience. They started an 11-week training cycle on April 15, 2012 in a class that consisted of 48 cadets. Eight resigned during the weeks of constant mental and physical challenges that followed.

The training included more than 1,000 hours of classroom and field study in subjects such as constitutional law, juvenile and traffic law, use of force, weapons training, defensive tactics, first aid, high speed vehicle pursuit, criminal investigation, computer literacy, hostage negotiations, evidence collection, radio procedures, search and seizure, crash investigation, drug identification, traffic control, crowd control, armed robbery response, land navigation, electronic crimes, sex crimes, hate crimes, domestic violence, bomb threats and hazardous materials.

"Governor Beshear continues to show his support for the Kentucky State Police and keeping our rural communities safe by allowing us to continue running cadet classes during these tough budgetary times," said KSP Commissioner Rodney Brewer. "These 40 new troopers have demonstrated that they possess the perseverance and expertise needed to serve the Commonwealth of Kentucky and we're pleased to welcome them to the prestigious ranks of the Thin Gray Line."

Justice and Public Safety Cabinet Secretary J. Michael Brown addressed the cadets and noted that they have served in 28 different law enforcement agencies throughout the Commonwealth and collectively represent 215 years of law enforcement experience. "But what makes them different now is the patch they wear on their shoulders and the word 'Trooper.'"

"The Kentucky State Police is often described as the Thin Gray Line," he said, "but don't mistake that as a weak gray line. Thin is used because we often only see the edge of the sword. Although they cover the entire state, you often only see one or two at a time. What you don't see is the length and depth of the sword and you don't often realize how deeply that sword will cut if it becomes necessary."

"Their numbers are not as great as they have been in the past, but their quality and commitment has never been better," he added. "The line is long and it may appear thin, but it is endless."

Several members of the class earned special recognitions including valedictorian Sean Wint, of Hopkinsville, Ky., and salutatorian Eric Moore, of Somerset, Ky.

Wint also received the Ernie Bivens Award, an honor presented to the cadet who, in the opinion of the KSP Academy staff supported by input from the cadets themselves, shows distinction as a class leader, strives for academic excellence and has excelled in all phases of the academy's physical and vocational training, and the Overall Physical Training Award.

Craig Miller, of Lynch, Ky., and Jonathan Murphy, of Greenville, Ky., received the Commissioner's Commitment to Excellence Award, which is presented to cadets who demonstrate leadership, the desire to get the job done and the determination to be the best every day.

The following is a list of Columbia Post 15's new troopers and their hometowns or residences:

Kenneth Brown, Burkesville, KY;
Brian Gibson, Burkesville, KY;
Kevin Roberts, Nancy, KY;
and Jason Warinner, Albany, KY.

The new troopers will be supervised by a training officer for six to eight weeks after reporting to their post duty assignments.

KSP will begin accepting applications for its next traditional, 23-week cadet class on Aug. 1, 2012. The class is scheduled for the summer of 2013. Additional information and testing dates will be announced at that time.

Applicants must be 21 years of age, a U.S. citizen, in good health and possess a valid driver's license with no more than six driver demerit points. Applicants must also possess a minimum of 60 semester hours from an accredited college or university or be a high school graduate with at least two years of either active military duty or experience as a full-time, sworn law enforcement officer.

Interested applicants should visit the KSP website at www.kentuckystatepolice.org and click on Career Opportunities, Recruitment Home for more information or to download an application. Anyone interested in obtaining more information after visiting the website can call 1-866-360-3165 from 8:00 a.m. - 4:30 p.m. (ET), Monday through Friday, or leave a message any other time.

The Kentucky State Police is a law enforcement agency that prides itself on attracting the best individuals to become law enforcement personnel. KSP affords equal employment opportunity to all individuals, regardless of race, creed, color, religion, gender or age.

board.

He went on to say that they had worked with Mansfield and Eastern Roofing on projects in the past, and they do good work.

Board chairman Floyd Burton ended the discussion by noting, “If it (the roofing) meets specs, there’s nothing for us to do.”

The other matter dealt with the flooring contract that was awarded.

According to Branscum Construction Project Manager Sandra Honaker, the low bid for flooring submitted by Howard Carpenter Flooring left out two sections of flooring, making the firm’s bid an unqualified bid.

Honaker requested the board approve the authorization to withdraw Howard Carpenter Floor Covering’s bid and accept the second low bid for the package, which the board did. The second low bidder was Bennett’s Carpets of Russell Springs.

Bennett’s bid was $60,000 higher than Carpenter’s, which will add $60,000 to the construction costs.

However, the total cost of $14,086,559 will not change. A total of $49,000 for equipment and furnishings was deleted and $10,000-plus removed from the contingency fund in order to keep the total cost, which is the maximum amount the school district can spend, the same. The money for equipment and furnishings can be added in later from the contingency fund.

In the only other matter on the agenda for the special meeting, the board approved an emergency certification for a substitute teacher.

Board members Walker, Harris, Burton and Joe Payne were present for the meeting. Board member Rebecca Turner was absent.

Fire Destroys Mobile Home

BY WES FEESE

A mobile home fire on Park Way Lane last Thursday amounted to a total loss for its occupants, Jessica Palmer and Amy Wilson.

At 10:43 a.m. firemen arrived on the scene to find the fire in full force, and a total of 19 firemen worked for an hour and a half battling the blaze. “We saved a back bedroom, but that’s about it,” said Fire Chief Mike Glasgow. “And all of the stuff in there was pretty much ruined by smoke.”

Officials are not sure what caused the fire, but according to Glasgow, there were no signs of arson.

Donations Being Accepted To Assist Families In Need After Fire

Dry air and extremely high temperatures have allowed for fires to become a nationwide problem the past few weeks, and Adair County has not been completely spared. Two local families lost most of their homes and possessions to house fires last week, and donations are being taken up to help them get back on their feet.

Jonathon and Jessica Hutcheson, along with their infant son Chase, lost their home on Enid Libby Road, while Amy Wilson and Jessica Palmer saw their home and belongings on Park Way Lane go up in smoke as well.

Items being collected to help the families include furniture, appliances, household items, clothes, and anything else that people are willing to donate. Items can be dropped off at the Office of Adair County Judge Executive Ann Melton, or if items are too big to be dropped off, can be picked up by notifying Lisa Greer or Jerri Nixon at: acjudge1@duo-county.com or by calling (270) 384 4703.

Clothing sizes for the Hutcheson family are as follows: shirts (men’s) – medium, pants (men’s) – 29x32, shoes (men’s) – 12, blouses (women’s) – large, pants (women’s) 18, and shoes (women’s) – 9.5. Their infant son wears 12 month-18 month sized clothes, size 6 shoes, and size 4 diapers.

Sizes of clothes for Wilson and Palmer are: blouses – XL, 2XL, and 3XL, pants – 16/18 and 24/26, and shoes – 8.5 and 10.

A BODY SHOP owned by Danny Biggerstaff was completely destroyed along with all of its contents late Tuesday night. According to the report from the Adair County Fire Department, the department received a 911 call reporting the fire at 257 Richards Lane at 11:48 p.m. When the department arrived on the scene, the 45’x45’ building was totally engulfed in flames and was a total loss. Also destroyed in the fire were a 2005 Dodge pickup truck, a 2011 Jeep Wrangler, a 1970 Chevelle and a Harley Davidson motorcycle. Seventeen firemen responded to the fire and were on the scene for approximately one hour and 45 minutes. The origin of the fire has not been determined. Adair's All-Star Teams Face Blistering Heat in District Tournament

11-Year-Old All-Stars Blast Four Homeruns
Adair County All-Stars Win District Runner-Up

The Adair County Little League All-Star teams faced 100 degree temperatures and thunderstorms to compete in the All-Star District Tournament held in Jamestown, Kentucky last week.

The 11-Year-Old All Star team would have to fight their way back from the loser's bracket after a tough 6-5 loss to Glasgow in the first round of play. But Adair came out swinging with a 17-6 victory over Marion County in their next game setting up a rematch against Glasgow. Behind pitcher Jalen Rogers, Adair County came to play. They would put up six runs and shut down Glasgow's offense in the 6-0 win.

Adair County had to face an undefeated Campbellsville team in the District Championship. Adair's bats went to work in the first inning as Blake Biggs and Byron Corbin each hit two-run homeruns and Adam Doss and Layndon Carter put up solo runs.

Campbellsville found themselves in a 6-0 hole as they stepped to the plate. Inning after inning the teams traded hits, smart baserunning and some excellent defensive effort.

However, in the end Campbellsville capitalized on their hitting strength with base hit singles and a solo homerun.

After six innings Adair County came up just one run short in the 12-11 heartbreaker to take home the 11-Year-Old All-Star 5th District Runner-Up trophy.

Adair County Wins 11-Year-Old All Stars District Runner-Up: Layndon Carter, Riley Robertson, Byron Corbin, Jake Brockman, Will Feese, Blake Biggs, Jaylan Rogers, Treyton Gist, Adam Doss and C.J. Rogers. Coaches: Scotty Carter, Craig Feese, Freddie Corbin and Todd Robertson.

Adair County's Mason Carter sent one over the fence in 5th District action over the weekend.

All-Star Kyle Estes fires a strike across the plate as Adair County took on Glasgow in the District Tournament.

Blake Biggs would start Adair County off right with a two-run homer in the first inning of the District Championship.

All-Star Byron Corbin rounds second with a smile on his face after blasting his first homerun to score two runs in Sunday's District Championship game against Campbellsville.

Adair County's Adam Doss gets congratulated by his teammates at homeplate after hitting one of Adair County's four homeruns in the first inning of play against Campbellsville on Sunday.

Layndon Carter watches the ball coast over the fence to put one more on the board for Adair in their heartbreaking loss to Campbellsville to take runner-up.

Catcher James Owens prepares to make the play at home in Adair County's match up against Glasgow over the weekend.

Cody Hourigan races against the runner to make the out at first in 5th District All-Star action.

Andrew Stotts Selected For Vanderbilt Summer Academy

Andrew Stotts of Columbia has been selected to participate in Vanderbilt Summer Academy for gifted students

Andrew Stotts of Columbia, KY has been accepted to attend the 2012 Vanderbilt Summer Academy (VSA), a program for gifted students in grades 8 through 12 hosted by Vanderbilt University’s Program for Talented Youth (PTY).

Students who attend VSA are among the brightest in the country, scoring in the top tier on academic achievement tests such as the SAT and ACT.

“VSA classes develop students’ critical thinking skills, encourage intellectual exploration, and teach them how to thrive in a college classroom setting,” says PTY Director, Dr. Tamra Stambaugh. “Students are able to push their intellectual limits alongside friends who also appreciate the sheer joy of learning and discovery.”

VSA consists of one-week, two-week, and three-week sessions, each featuring challenging courses taught in university classrooms and laboratories by Vanderbilt scholars. The caliber of VSA’s teaching staff and students’ access to university resources make VSA unique among summer academic programs for gifted youth.

Andrew has chosen to study bio-medical engineering.

Vanderbilt University’s PTY seeks to identify and aid academically talented youth from diverse educational, racial, and economic backgrounds by providing academic enrichment and challenge, balance, and healthfulness in their lives. In addition to VSA, PTY provides engaging and intellectually appropriate educational opportunities to precocious young students and their parents and educators year-round through various research projects, Weekend Academy at Vanderbilt University, Saturday Academy at Vanderbilt University, parent support groups, and professional development opportunities for educators.

Parents, students and educators interested in any of PTY’s programs are encouraged to contact the PTY office at (615) 322-8261 or visit its website at pty.vanderbilt.edu.

Street Lighting Service - Rate ST.LT.
Private Outdoor Lighting - Rate P.O.LT.

Street Lighting Service (Rate ST.LT. – Sheet No. 35) and Private Outdoor Lighting Service (Rate P.O.LT. – Sheet No. 36) are being reorganized into two rate schedules. The first schedule will be named Lighting Services (Rate LS) and will be a consolidation of lighting fixtures currently offered. The second schedule will be named Restricted Lighting Service (Rate RLS) and will be a consolidation of lighting fixtures that are in service but no longer available for new or replacement installations. The current and proposed rates are presented below based on the lights to be included in Rate LS and Rate RLS. The lights proposed to be contained in the specific schedule are shown in bold type with the current light and rate sheet shown below the proposed light.

Temporary and/or Seasonal Electric Service Rider TS

Availability of Service: Text change clarifies that service is available when it is not necessary for KU to install permanent facilities.

Conditions: Customer will pay for non-salvageable materials plus a monthly charge for the salvageable equipment at the Percentage With No Contribution in-Aid-of-Construction specified on the Excess Facilities Rider.

Customer Deposits

Kentucky Utilities Company is proposing no change to the required Customer Deposit for residential electric customers served under Residential Rate RS from the current amount of $135.00 (0% increase), and the required Customer Deposit for general service customers served under General Service Rate GS from the current amount of $220.00 (0% increase). Text change states when Rate GS deposit may be waived in conjunction with taking service under Rate RS.

Kentucky Utilities Company proposes to change the text of the following electric tariffs: General Service Rate GS, All Electric School Rate AES, Power Service Rate PS, Time-of-Day Secondary Service Rate TODS, Time-of-Day Primary Service Rate TODP, Retail Transmission Service Rate RTS, Fluctuating Load Service Rate FLS, Street Lighting Service Rate ST. LT, Private Outdoor Lighting Rate P.O.LT, Cable Television Attachment Charges Rate CTAC, Curtailable Service Rider CSR10, Curtailable Service Rider CSR30, Excess Facilities Rider EF, Redundant Capacity Rider RC, Supplemental/Standby Service Rider SS, Rider IL for Intermittent Loads, Temporary/Seasonal Service Rider TS, Large Green Energy Rider LGE, Low Emission Vehicle Service Rate LEV, Fuel Adjustment Clause FAC, Demand Side Management Cost Recovery Mechanism DSM, Environmental Cost Recovery Surcharge ECR, and the Terms and Conditions.

Changes to the Terms and Conditions include proposed clarifications on terms and conditions for determining customer rate assignments, as well as when standby or supplemental service must be purchased if customer desires non-firm service.

Although KU is not proposing to change the text of its Fuel Adjustment Clause ("FAC"), other than the correction of a minor typographical error in Paragraph (3), it is proposing to recover certain costs through the FAC to ensure that the correct amounts are collected through base rates and the FAC.

Complete copies of the proposed tariffs containing text changes and proposed rates may be obtained by contacting Lonnie E. Bellar, Kentucky Utilities Company at 220 West Main Street, Louisville, Kentucky, 502-627-4830, or visiting Kentucky Utilities Company's website at www.lge-ku.com.

The foregoing rates reflect a proposed annual increase in revenues of approximately 6.5% to Kentucky Utilities Company.

The estimated amount of the annual change and the average monthly bill to which the proposed electric rates will apply for each electric customer class is as follows:

Electric Rate Class	Annual $ Increase	Annual % Increase	Mthly Bill $ Increase	Mthly Bill % Increase
Residential	$37,381,886	8.03%	$ 7.41	8.03%
General Service	$ 9,061,201	4.97%	$ 9.20	4.97%

Estimating Corn Yields

Due to the extreme heat and drought conditions, many farmers will have to make a decision as to whether to harvest the corn as grain, chop as silage, graze, or possibly abandon the crop completely. With a little practice, one can get a good idea of what a field may yield based on ear assessment. If an ear is present, an approximate grain yield can be determined by counting the number of kernel rows on the ear. Then count the number of kernels per row. Next, one needs to determine or estimate the number of ears per acre which can be derived from the projected planting density. The next step is to multiply the kernel rows per ear X kernels per row X ears per acre. Divide this value by 90,000 to get an estimate of bushels per acre. For example, an ear with 12 kernel rows X 22 kernels per row X 18,000 ears per acre = 4,752,000 / 90,000 = 53 bushel/acre. This should be done in multiple areas of the field to obtain a representative sampling of the field. A rule of thumb for estimating corn silage yield without ears or poorly pollinated ears is 1 ton per foot of height of the corn. Thus, corn that is 7 feet tall would be estimated to yield 7 tons of corn silage at 70% moisture. Note that this will not work for very short corn that is less than three feet tall. The most important thing to remember is that one should weigh silage wagons or trucks to get an actual yield from the field when selling or buying silage. A publication will soon be available at the Adair County Extension Service to help farmers determine a value of drought damaged corn silage.

Wheat Variety Trials Now Available

Wheat growers will soon be making decisions on variety selection for wheat planting this fall. The UK Wheat Variety Trials are now available to help growers make this decision. Copies are available at the Adair County Extension Service or may be found online at www.uky.edu/Ag/WheatVarietyTest <<http://www.uky.edu/Ag/WheatVarietyTest>>

Research has shown that up to 75% control of Fusarium Head Blight can be achieved when both resistant varieties and foliar fungicides are used and weather favors the disease. However, either resistance or fungicide used alone will only achieve 40-50% control.

Middle Age Dilemma: Caring For Your Kids, Your Parents & Yourself

Many middle-aged adults are finding themselves caring and supporting two generations- their children and their aging parents. While caregiving can be very rewarding, it often can bring additional emotional, physical and financial stresses for caregivers as they try to balance a career, parenting and elder care.

According to the Family Caregiver Alliance, 520,000 Kentucky informal caregivers provide 570 million hours of care each year. The estimated value of this care is worth more than $5.4 billion. This support is most often geared toward seniors by middle-aged daughters, who are balancing a full-time job on top of their other daily responsibilities.

Here are a few tips for handling the physical and emotional stresses related to caregiving:

- Recognize how you handle stress and what is stressing you. Put your stressors into perspective and make time for what is really important.
- Remember you also need to take care of yourself.
- Take physical and emotional breaks from caregiving, such as going for a walk or reading a book.
- Ask for help, including professional support.
- Remember that the example you set by handling your stress is a model for the rest of your family.

Reducing financial stress requires honesty between all parties involved in the caregiving process (your parents, your children and yourself). You should analyze your financial situation and be honest with your parents about how much financial support you can provide to them now and in the future. Your parents need to be honest with you about their monthly expenses. Reviewing your parents' expenses may help you find ways where they can cut costs, such as buying generic products, seeking government assistance or moving in together to share monthly expenses. You should be honest with your children about the effects of caring for your aging parents and make sure they know their needs come first. You may also want to seek support and advice from geriatric care managers, elder care lawyers and financial planners.

More information on caregiving is also available at the Adair County Cooperative Extension Service. Additional online resources for caregivers include AARP's website <http://www.aarp.org/> and eXtension's Family Caregiving website http://www.extension.org/family_caregiving.

Summer's here, and before you know it, the Kentucky State Fair and Cloverville will be in full swing. This year, the state fair is Aug. 16-26.

Cloverville is an annual state fair attraction. Located in the West Hall of the Kentucky Exposition Center in Louisville, Cloverville offers an opportunity for 4-H'ers to showcase their abilities and compete for statewide ribbons and awards. Regardless of whether they win at the state fair, the young people who have exhibits at Cloverville are already winners, as they had to win their county competition to advance to the state level. What you see in Cloverville are good examples of 4-H and the work ethic of 4-H'ers; some of these projects took weeks, months and sometimes an entire year for young people to complete. Project areas can range from entomology to knitting and everything in between.

Not only can you view these exhibits in Cloverville, but also you can vote for your favorite ones each day of the fair. In addition to awards given by judges, the public has the opportunity to select their favorite project with the People's Choice Award. The award is given daily to the project with the most votes.

In addition to the project exhibits, 4-H'ers will be on-hand showcasing their skills through projects such as mannequin modeling and on-site competitions. Mannequin modeling gives participants the chance to model an outfit they have designed and constructed. On-site competitions include Lego wars and 4-H's version of "Cupcake Wars."

For more information about Cloverville events or to register for a competition, contact the Adair County Cooperative Extension Service.

Achievement Program Teaches about Goals

Throughout their 4-H career, young people are encouraged to set and reach goals. No program better exemplifies this than the Kentucky 4-H Achievement Program.

The Achievement Program replaced the 4-H Honors Program in September 2011. The new program allows 4-H'ers to start accumulating points as soon as they start their 4-H careers and to begin earning recognition in the sixth grade. With a new 4-H program year beginning in September, now is the time for 4-H'ers to begin thinking about joining this program.

In the Achievement Program, young people can earn points toward the completion of each of five non-competitive levels by participating in various leadership opportunities, projects, activities and events. Points are given based on whether the activity occurred at the county, district, state or national levels, with point totals ranging from county level events earning one point to national events receiving four points. The program's non-competitive levels range from Level I which requires 25 points and being a sixth-grader to Level V where a 4-H'er earns 200 points and is in the 10th grade.

Students who complete either Level I or Level II of the program will receive a certificate at the 4-H Teen Summit.

Levels III, IV and V have the opportunity to apply for additional competitive achievement awards. These awards include bronze, silver, gold and emerald levels. To reach the bronze level, 4-H'ers must be in the eighth grade and reached Level III. Each of the state's seven districts can choose to submit the applications of 15 4-H'ers, and those 105 receive a $50 scholarship to the 4-H Teen Conference.

To apply for the silver level, 4-H'ers must be in at least the ninth grade and earned the Level IV award. Once again, each district can submit the applications of 15 4-H'ers, but of those 105 applicants, 60 are selected. Those 60 receive a $125 scholarship to the Teen Conference.

4-H'ers in the 10th grade who have reached Level V can apply for the gold award. Gold applicants must complete a community service project. For the project, the 4-H'er interviews community members about problems in the community, decides on one problem to concentrate on, develops a solution and leads a group of individuals to complete it. Each district can submit 10 applicants for the gold award. Of the 70 statewide applicants, 30 are selected. Gold winners receive a $160 scholarship to the Teen Conference and a $750 scholarship to the 2013 National 4-H Congress.

The top 10 gold winners from the current 4-H program year as well as gold winners from previous years are invited to apply for the emerald level in March. Those seeking emerald status must complete a county honors application, emerald application, an up-to-date resume and personal PowerPoint by May 15. These applications will go before a committee and the top 15 will take part in an interview and present their PowerPoint at Teen Conference. The four applicants selected for this level will receive a $1,000 scholarship to the 2014 National 4-H Conference in Washington, D.C. and $1,000 college scholarship.

4-H'ers should check with their county 4-H youth development agent for local 4-H Achievement Program application deadlines. Agents must submit applications to the state 4-H office by Dec. 15.

Student Attends Institute For Future Agricultural Leaders

Adair County High School student Jena Hopkins recently returned home from Kentucky Farm Bureau's Institute for Future Agricultural Leaders (IFAL). Hopkins and 41 other high school students from around the state attended the five-day summer leadership conference, held June 24-28 at the University of Kentucky.

An identical IFAL conference was also held June 17-21 at Murray State University for an additional 42 students.

IFAL is designed to expose high school students to college life while helping them explore the different fields of study for careers in agriculture. During the week, attendees gained a better understanding of the nature and needs of the agriculture industry, saw how basic and applied science is utilized in agriculture and learned of the political process used to develop agricultural policy.
